		not really	now	none	why has there been almost zero outreach to community this whole entire time?? we have hardly any greenspace here, we deserve to AT LEAST be informed of the timeline.
		Yes	After clean up		Is the park safe for children and pets? If so, I think it should be opened asap. If not, what are they going to do to fix it? Does the neighboring NPI facility contribute to the pollution and soil contamination in the park?
		No - it's we need the park open	Now	It's too bad but expected. Most likely fine to walk on	I miss this park and would like a date it will be open again - no place to go in South Park that's near the River
		Not sure	After cleanup
		Si	Después de la limpieza	Después de la limpieza	Que cuando va estar listo
		Yes knowing the history of the river	Pruebas de plomo	Is it safe to step on the sand by the river? Can we swim ?	When is the projection of completion for the park?

		Yes!	After cleanup, but soon! It's been sitting empty too long	None, but please note this question wasn't translated to Spanish correctly	What's the timeline to finish cleanup and reopen?
		yes keep testing even after the park is fully open. We need to watch out for possible new/previously undiscovered toxins	Open as soon as possible, Parks will be testing for ever otherwise, with nothing being done. Clean up the worse contaminants then open the park, but keep testing and cleaning.	How toxic are they? And what are they? How would users of the park encounter the contaminants?
		Yes	After cleanup and confirmed non toxic
		I would defer to the project experts to determine whether or not more testing is needed.	As soon as it is safe to do so and hopefully by the summer.	Is it safe for the community to be at the site while testing is ongoing?	Aside from soil removal and replacement, what other technologies or methods are available for remediation, if any?
		no	now - the Duwamish Valley has contaminated soil. we need open space!	what hazards does the soil pose to humans at the park? If none, sign it and open it.
		Yes	After clean up	I'm furious...our children have played there for decades
		No.	Now.
		Yes	After clean up

		No it's been used for years. While it's great to continue to improve it, you are denying others the use of it	It should have been opened in October 2021 as promised	None feel free to improve it without denying those of us that think it is still ok to use	Does our city council know that you are denying the Duwamish Rowing Club access, the community access, and if it's so Toxic, the Childrens playground is still open. Please reopen the park
		Yes	When it is safe
		No, it's better than it was before.	Open it now, it's been closed so long folks have been opening the fences and enjoying the park regardless.	It's been cleaned, just open it now.	Open our park!
		Yes, please continue testing as clean up done on River elsewhere too to make sure it's not being spread or anything	If levels are safe it should open- if not safe it should be all the way closed and urgently worked on
		No. Only for top 6-inches of soil, if at all	Once the vegetation has been established. Once testing concludes no contaminants within reasonably accessible areas.	Contaminants are going to be everywhere to one degree or another. It is the unfortunate cost we are all paying for modernity. We can do our best to clean/remove them, but it is of diminishing returns.	Will Seattle P&R be adequately maintaining this space?

		Yes	Not until the site is safe	Many pets still play at the park. What is being done to educate the community on how to keep their pets safe?	None
		Yes.	I think the park should be open now with signs about the contamination - and regular posted updates about timelines and community expectations. South Park has so few outdoor areas to enjoy, I'd rather let people decide for themselves if they need the recreational space in the mean time.	I feel extremely angry that this wasn't handled more carefully and addressed more thoroughly when initial cleanup and construction was going on. Now the community has to wait longer for recreational space it deserves and so badly needs.	When does the city want this to be cleaned up and addressed by? Who's making this a priority? How can the community get more involved?
		Yes	After cleanup	How long will it take to clean them up?	Can't wait time have the park opened.
		We are not scientists. How would we know?	Is it safe? Obviously we don't want to recreate on contaminated ground. Why is it still contaminated after you closed and redeveloped it extensively?	Why is the park still contaminated? Why are toxin producing industries such as NPI allowed to operate in a residential neighborhood? Why can't we have a nice uncontaminated park to use?

		Yes	ASAP. Open it now!	Can testing continue while the park is open? How long is it going to take?!
		If necessary to satisfy Ecology	As soon as possible. Fill the information gaps and proceed directly to cleaning it up. We've waited more than 20 years for this park improvement. Get it done before another generation of kids misses out on a grand park experience.		What are we waiting for?
		Yes, regular monitoring and analysis to see if the cleanup is working and if addl mitigation is needed	Now, we need the park back now	The contamination is worth knowing about but I think daily park users are not at a health risk (think about Gasworks!) that would require the park to be shut down! Especially if education and harm reduction info is posted (wash hands/paws etc)	Tell the whole history of the park from the beginning (Anna Marti and Liana Beal have info) and highlight how hard the community works to make it what it is today. It can be a destination park for people from all over the region

		Yes	The park should be tested on different spots and then the closure should be isolated to that spot. I can look more at the information but is the entire park contaminated? If so, then that should be close, but if there are only spaces and areas that are the other parts of the park should be opened.	More information about the contaminants and what the impact of them are.
